

Marvin Test Solutions Highlights Advanced Armament Test at Aero India

Irvine, Calif. – February 7, 2017 - Marvin Test Solutions (MTS), Inc., a trusted provider of globally-deployed innovative test solutions for military, aerospace, and manufacturing organizations will join Marvin Engineering Corp (MEC) to represent The Marvin Group at Aero India 2017, February 14 - 18 at Air Force Station Yelahanka, Bengaluru, India.

MTS will showcase the MTS-209 Common Armament and the MTS-3060 SmartCan™ Universal O-Level Armament Test Sets, both currently deployed worldwide to support legacy and next generation aircraft armament and munitions test requirements. “Building on our recent contracts to supply the MTS-209 and the MTS-3060 in support of the T-50 trainer aircraft for the Royal Thai Air Force, we are excited to have the opportunity to meet with industry leaders and to demonstrate our capabilities to the region’s defense leaders,” said Major General Stephen T. Sargeant, USAF (Ret.), the CEO of MTS who also serves as the Vice President of Strategic Development for The Marvin Group. “Our test solutions are designed to provide commonality across aircraft platforms and serve at all maintenance levels, with the goal of making test easy for our customers.”

MEC will be displaying its reliable, durable and combat-proven heavy-duty ejector racks, including the MAU-12 and BRU-32. In service worldwide, MEC ejector racks are compatible with aircraft platforms including F-18 (all variants), F-15, F-16, TA/FA/-50, C-130, and B-52.

The Marvin Group will be located in the American Pavilion at booth #E3.46. Marvin Test Solutions’ CEO Major General Stephen T. Sargeant, USAF (Ret.) and The Marvin Group’s VP for Business Development, Mr. John Young, will be onsite and available to discuss MTS and The Marvin Group capabilities in detail.
